

This past week we acknowledged pastor appreciation day, during this time I noticed something that I had never really paid that much attention to. I noticed all the different way's people show their love and appreciation towards each other. Some show it in a card with word penciled down from their heart. Others show it with a kind word, a hand shake, or maybe just a hug as they pass by. As I thought about all the ways we show our love and appreciation towards each other I begin to recall things. Things such as bringing snacks by the office, leaving things in my office mail box, sending me Bible verses each day by text message, giving me things that hold such a high personal value, the invitation to join you at breakfast, and all the help that you offer. In each of these things I see your kindness and appreciation being extended.

I would like to say thank you for all that you do, and that I am truly grateful to have been given the opportunity to serve with people such as yourself. May God bless each and every one of you,

Bro. Jeremy
